

The Rice Experiment

By Nancy Gibson Patterson

This is an experiment regarding the power of the spoken word and written word. Proverbs 18:21 Death and life are in the power of the tongue: and they that love it shall eat the fruit thereof.

I did a three-month experiment, Feb 15, 2010 – May 15, 2010. The experiment started with clean sterol jars containing cooked white rice. At first I spoke to the jars every day, but after a couple weeks, only once a week, then once every three weeks... not very often. This experiment is having a major impact upon my life, my words, and my attitude towards others. If my words can so affect and actually change rice, what do my words do to people? I just wanted to share this.

Thank you,
I Love you,
Good Rice
